Ole Buddrus redesigns his special cocktail recipes for Barut Hotels

We collaborated with Ole Buddrus, our Cocktail professional, as part of Acanthus Paradise Barut Collection, and held a long conversation with him extending from the effects of tastes on humans to how they could have a special place in our memories. Offering unforgettable holiday experiences accompanied by the unique tastes, Barut Hotels make the Mediterranean breeze so different and special with easy-to-drink cocktails at Lara and Acanthus hotels.

Ole Buddrus acts in strict adherence to his German discipline, and does not let our bar team to make any concession to the recipes he has prepared with millimeter calculations. Combining the local tastes that go well with the identities of Lara and Acanthus with the globally leading spirits brands, and then turning them into a masterpiece that can be enjoyed only in these two hotels, Mr. Buddrus provides consultancy to many global food and beverage brands, and creates his signature cocktails that cannot be enjoyed at any other place. The highly-extensive bar menus offer many alcoholic and non-alcoholic cocktail alternatives.

4th nature book publicized by Barut Hotels with a launch

Barut Hotels publicized its 4th nature book on March 23 as part of March 21-26 Forest Week. During the press conference with breakfast serve, all social responsibility projects of the group in the fields of nature and history were disclosed. The purposes, lying behind preparation and release of the nature books, were explained as accompanied by the short films where the hotel managers of the group presented 11 different historical spots and natural beauties. The 4th nature book, to focus on Barut Sorgun hotel and the adjacent forest following Lara, Hemera and Fethiye hotels, are prepared in Turkish, Russian, German and English, like the other books. Bioengineer Caglar Ince, the author of the book, aims to raise the level of awareness of both domestic and international tourists on the nature as part of this project carried out in coordination with Barut Hotels. Following the press conference, the participants visited the nature exhibition at the garden of Akra offering a view of Bey Mountains and the Mediterranean Sea, and examined the bird, butterfly and plant species. The last two pictures of the exhibition featured a fire in a forest, and the wastes in forests, aiming to draw attention to importance of the nature. Nature books by Barut Hotels are presented to our guests for free.

We quit plastics!

As driven by its responsibilities towards the environment and nature, Barut Hotels take many important initiatives every year, maintaining its mission of leading the industry. Barut Hotels will start to use as fewer plastics as possible as part of the "Free from Plastics" project. As part of this project where any and all kinds of services to use recyclable products are examined with due care, Lara Barut Collection and Acanthus Cennet Barut Collection were selected as the pilot hotels. It is aimed to implement this project, planned to be realized in April 2019, across the other facilities following some developments on the internal processes.

Must See Places!

2019: Year of Aspendos in Antalya
2019 was announced as the Year of Aspendos in Antalya by the Ministry of Culture and Tourism and the Governor's Office of Antalya of the Republic of Turkey as part of the project launched in 2018 to draw attention to history. 2018 had been announced as the year of Perge Ancient City. Located 2 kilometers away from the road taking you to the north from the 44th kilometer of Antalya - Alanya Highway, Aspendos is known for accommodating the best-preserved Roman Period theatre of not only Anatolia but also the entire Mediterranean world. The city is situated on the hill plateau near Koprucay (Ancient Eurymedon) which is one of the biggest rivers of the region. Mostly the theatre and waterways are currently visited at Aspendos which owes its easy access to Mediterranean and development to the surrounding rivers and fertile soils. Historical remains of the city can be seen on the hill plateau the theatre leans on. For further information: www.kulturportali.gov.tr/turkiye/antalya/gezilecekyer/aspandos

Arum Barut Collection renovated

Renovated greatly with a detailed renovation work in the winter season, Arum Barut Collection is now at the disposal of its guests with its new rooms and units. Besides some elegant touches in the common areas of the hotel, all family rooms were renovated and turned into two different room types, namely "Corner Suite with Sea View" and "Suite with Sea View" at the main building. Some of the Deluxe rooms with Direct Sea View were renovated and offered to our guests as "Suite with Sea View". All rooms on the sixth floor of the main building were renovated with some elegant touches, stepping into a completely different look.
